Indian History Ellong the Penobscot

The story of the Indian in the state of Maine is ever interesting, and especially is that of the Penobscot Valley. This race of men, children of nature and reared to a life in the forest, ending their days as they began them, is the subject of pity as well as of hatred; hated for their cruelty, and pitied for their misfortune at the hands of their more civilized fellows, the Anglo-Saxons. We of a later day can look upon this race in a spirit of greater fairness than could our ancestors whose view of the red man was obscured by his late acts of rapine and plunder. As we read history let us remember that they were struggling to retain their own domain, to defend their "Fatherland" against the acts of the aggressive pale face whose deeds of prowess we delight to honor.

TRIBES OF THE PENOBSCOT.

In our brief sketch we cannot attempt to trace in full the descent of the Indian tribe of this region. It is unnecessary. We will begin by stating that the Indians of the state of Maine generally were divided into the following tribes: The Sokokis, of the Saco river region: the Amasagunticooks or Abenakis, of the Androscoggin and lower Kennebec region; the Canibas, of the Norridgewock region; and the Wawenocks of the eastern part of Maine as now known. Of these the latter are to us most interesting. Another almost synonymous name for this tribe is the Etchemin tribe. This tribe however included the Indians to the extreme headwaters of the Penobscot and the St. John River. This tribe is usually divided into three divisions, viz; those on the St. John; those on the Passamaquoddy; and the Tarratines, of the Penobscot, concerning whom we are most interested. It is undoubtedly true that this tribe is the ancestor of the present remnant known as the Penobscot tribe. This tribe claimed dominion over the entire Penobscot Valley from the headwaters to the sea.

Concerning these Indians we here quote Mr. Williamson as follows: "They were a numerous, powerful, and warlike people more hardy and brave than their western enemies, whom they often plundered and killed, and, according to Hubbard and Price, kept the Sycamores between the Piscataqua and the Mistic in perpetual fear. After the conquests and glory achieved in their battles with the Babshaba and his allies, they were not, like their enemies, wasted by disease and famine. They retained their valor animated by success and strengthened by the early use and supply of fire arms, with which they were furnished by the French. Less disturbed than the western tribes in the enjoyment of their possessions and also more discreet, they were always reluctant to plunge into hostilities against the English. The Tarratines ever manifested the greatest satisfaction in their intercourse with the French. No fortifications upon the peninsula of Maj. Biguyduce, or building in the vicinity, excited either fear or jealousy in them, for no rising plantations of the French threatened them with the loss of their lands or privileges. A barter of their furs for guns, ammunition and trinkets was managed with a freedom and a directness which won and secured their attachment. Their companionable manners and volatile turn made the bonds strong and lasting. The Tarratines have probably at different periods shifted the situation of their principal village. At the mouth of the Kenduskeag they had a common resting place when the white people first settled in that vicinity—a place to which they were, from habit, strongly attached. Here the mouldering relies of human bodies, flint spears, stone implements of labor and Indians' paint-dust have been accidentally disinterred after a burial of an unknown period of time."

The Tarratines were neutral in the war of the Revolution. In return Massachusetts, of which this region was a part at that time, protected them and prohibited all trespass upon their lands, six miles in width on each side of the Penobscot, from the Head of Tide upwards. The state from time to time bought large tracts of land from them till their territory was greatly diminished in size. These Indians when they were first seen by the whites dwelt on both sides of the river and in conjunction with the other tribes roamed the whole of the state of Maine to the westward of this region. That they wandered far from their Penobscot home is evident. One historian asserts that the chief, Samoset, who met the English at Plymouth with the words "Welcome Englishmen" in their own tongue, was a Tarratine, and came from the Island of Monhegan.

WARS OF THE TARRATINES.

The Indian seemed to be fated to be the opponent of the Englishman. In religion and personal make up the English were at a very serious disadvantage as compared with the French---

Transfer or a second man with his vivacious wavs, and his attractive and impressive religious services. It is probable that the most of the English had serious intentions and an honest purpose to deal justly with the red men. Their charters called for religious training, forbade the sale of liquors to them, and in every way enjoined their training in the channels of civilization. But the Frenchman did all in his power to engender the spirit of animosity which was early started in the breast of the savage. Only one result could possibly be, and that was war. But though the Indians were gradually drifting to hostilities they were hurled headlong into an open conflict by Weymouth's infamous seizure of five of their tribe in 1605. In 1631 or 1632 there was an outbreak between the Tarratines and their rivals, but the conflict was not long prolonged nor bloody. The great war with the Mohawks about 1663 greatly discomfited the Tarratines, their dreaded enemies following them even to the banks of the Penobscot, burning their dwellings, and doing great harm in accordance with Indian warfare. Soon smallpox devastated the tribe till it was almost exterminated.

No further action in warfare was participated in by these Indians till the coming of Maj. Church in 1694, who laid waste their fields and killed several of the natives. In 1722 Lovewell's war opened and lasted three years. The war was thus named for Capt. Lovewell of Dunstable, the hero of the battle of Pequawket. The warfare was carried to the Penobscot Valley, and begun at the arrival of Col. Thomas Westbrook in 1723. This expedition was made up of one hundred and thirty men. They sailed the coast of Mt. Desert in whaling boats and small vessels, and then proceeded up the Penobscot, anchoring at Marsh Island, it is stated, on March 4 of that year. Here they left their boats and began a five days' march through the forest near the river. At the old Indian fort which they found deserted the company destroyed everything of value. It was stated that this fort was situated in Orono about six miles above Kenduskeag. After the destruction of the buildings about the fort the whites returned.

About two years later, when the Tarratines had rebuilt the village, Capt. Joseph Heath with his company crossed the country and attacked the village, Laying it in ashes. No Indians were found. The village was never rebuilt, Oldtown being the place finally settled up in as their further abode. In October, 1723, a vessel landing at Mt. Desert, Capt. Cogswell commanding, was attacked by the Indians, the whole crew being captured.

The wars being over, the Indians returned to their usual customs, hunting and fishing. Gradually by treaty and by other courses the English came into possession of the lands along the Penobscot. The Indians were greatly cheated in these deals, but managed to retain possession of certain tracts, and to this day have control of a large number of islands in the Penobscot. They also have a large sum in the hands of the state which is holden as a perpetual fund for their support on which the state pays interest annually. The Indian tribe receives not far from $8,000 per year from different sources. The treatment of these Indians on the Penobscot by the state of Maine is in marked contrast to that of Massachusetts when this whole region was a part of that commonwealth. Everything of practical value to them is now done for their protection and benefit.

EARLY SETTLEMENTS.

As to whom the first white man to set foot on this territory was we have no means of knowing, but the first on record was Samuel Weston who was employed by the Committee for the Sale of Eastern Lands. He explored and surveyed about 21 townships in this section of the state as early as 1799. are varying reports as to the earlier ownership of this land. In 1799 Abel Blood purchased a square mile and made a clearing, but of whom he bought we find no record. The location claimed by Mr. Blood was near what is now East Dover. We learn that the following year heraised crops of some kind presumably corn, as that formed the principal diet of the pioneers. Blood, however, did not remain in the place. We find the first permanent settler was Eli Towne who came from Temple, N. H., in 1801. He, together with his father, Thomas, and his brother, Moses, made a burning that fall and in the following spring planted the land thus cleared. It was not until the eighth day of May, however, that Mr. Towne, with his wife and child, arrived at the log camp he had constructed in this wilderness on the bank of the Piscataquis river just below East Dover village. On this journey he had walked all the way from Bangor, leading the horse on which his young wife sat with her firstborn son, Alvin, in her arms. What may have been the feelings of this young wife to leave her earlier home and parents to enter this land where scarcely ever the foot of civilized man had trod, where no family was perhaps within ten miles of the uninviting hut built for her home, can hardly be conceived today by the people who now occupy the happy and pleasant homes that have sprung up on the land that then surrounded them, and was to them the home of the wild beast, and an unlimited wilderness of forest trees. But this brave woman soon found enough to claim her attention in the care of her family and assisting her husband to make for them a comfortable home, and to instruct them in the best manner within her reach. She raised a family whose good deeds and patriotic endeavors will long live as a memorial to their early training and an example to those who should follow. The family consisted of ten children, three girls and seven boys, the oldest girl of whom was the first white child born in Dover, and probably the first in Piscataguis county. The children were, beginning at the oldest: Alvin, Sibyl, Betsey, Eli, Orpha, Ezra, Achsa, Bertha, Obed, and Leander. One or more of these names we meet later in the state legislature, and others prominent in the affairs of the town, their names being connected with almost every town office. Mr. Towne later built two houses on his farm, one of which has been destroyed but the other still stands, being owned by Elmer Towne. The present village of East Dover and several outlying farms now cover the land originally purchased by Mr. Towne, about 1-2 square mile, for which he gave the sum of $900. The next settler who came to the town is supposed to have been Mr. Lyford Dow, who came with his wife in about 1804 and settled near Mr. Towne a little farther down the river.

Mr. Dow made this his home and here raised his numerous family. His children were John, the oldest, then Betsey, Sarah, Eunice, Ben, Job, Lyford Jr., Asa, and Joseph. The descendants of this family are now respected citizens. Ben married Betsey Towne, who lived to the advanced age of 93 years.

About the same time William Mitchell arrived in the place with his wife, a talented young woman, who has the distinction of having made the first public prayer on record in the town. Their family consisted of four or more children, of whom were Mordecai, Louisa, Meribah, and Betsey.

While the foregoing were settling in the vicinity of East Dover others were locating in other parts now included in the town. Paul Lambert came from Winthrop (Me.) in about 1808, and purchased a large tract of land, containing from 700 to 1000 acres, at what is now South Dover. His house stood where the present residence of Mr. Turner, owned by Chas. Harvey, now Here he raised a family of eleven children: Dennis, stands. Lanson, Paul Jr., Samuel, Stephen, Eben, Isaac, Benj., Maryabee, Polly, and Susan; among whom were representatives, land agents, and many prominent town officials. Mr. Lambert was an especially prosperous farmer, never being out of grain—barley, wheat and oats-pork or hay from the time he harvested his first crop from his fertile fields. He often supplied his less prosperous neighbors with provisions, gave each of his children a good farm, and a year's board after their marriage, to give them a start in life. He then left a valuable estate.

The first to settle within the limits of what is now Dover village, as near as we can learn, was Mr. Nathaniel Chamber-lain. He made a clearing and constructed what was probably the first frame house in the town. This was located where Messrs. Kitridge and Downings now live. About the same time the Spaulding brothers sold their lots in Foxcroft and came across the river into Dover. A. Moore was the next we find record of; he settled and built a mill near where Brown's mill now stands. A little later, about 1820, Thomas Davee built a factory and mills in what is now the village. Thus the village began to be the center of business, and since that time has made rapid strides as a manufacturing center. Some of the citizens even moved their houses from East Dover to the village.

Among other early settlers who helped to redeem the town from the wilderness, and who have assisted in establishing a town of which its every citizen is justly proud, we might mention John Dow, Peter Brawn, Jonas and Zachariah Longley, Mr. Fifield, James Rowe and Job Parsons.

FOXCROFT SETTLERS.

In giving the historical account of these two towns we have been advised to treat them together, since their interests and fortunes are so nearly one, and in the light of the prospect that they may soon comprise but one civil township. In regard to the early history of the town of Foxcroft we find conflicting reports. We have spent much time, however, to verify the statements given us, and have done so in many cases. If, however, any of the following statements do not seem to you true, please bear in mind that events are seen differently by different observers, and from different viewpoints. As to dates, we have recorded them as nearly as unrecorded history has given them to us, and we trust these facts collected will be of value to the future historian who may be inspired to write the complete annals of the "City of Dovercroft."

Many affairs of interest took place here before the first permanent settlement was made. Col. J. E. Foxcroft explored the territory in about 1800, and soon after purchased the township for about 45 cents an acre of a Bowdoin College committee, this being one of six townships granted the college as an endowment. He laid out the town into lots, made some slight clearings and built a road, in connection with some others to whom he had already sold lots. He then offered $100 and the entire water privilege to the man who would here build a saw mill and keep it running and in repair for ten years. This offer was accepted by John Spaulding, together with his two brothers previously mentioned, who, after remaining on this side a while, removed to the Dover side.

As to who was the first to locate within the limits of the township to make his home, and to bring his family, we are unable to say definitely, but we are led to believe it was John Spaulding, who built a log cabin near where the present school building stands, and moved his family here in 1806. During the same year Joseph Foxcroft Spaulding was born, being the first white child born on Foxcroft soil. Unhappily this promising boy died at the age of four years.

Some affirm, however, that one Joseph Morse of Oxford county was the first to establish his home within the limits of the town. He came by way of Sebec, and settled on the shore of Sebec lake. This report is well founded, for we find record of a road being built to "Morse's Landing" previous to Mr. Spaulding's arrival, yet we have no authority to state that he brought his family at an earlier date. If such was the case, he of necessity either brought with him or bought of those in this section much of his first year's provisions, as he made no clearing until 1805. Mr. Spaulding brought his family from Norridgewock the following March. Mr. Spaulding's brothers, Seth and Eleazer, brought their families very soon after and settled near him. The next to come here were Samuel Chamberlain, Ephraim Bacon, and several others who came from Massachusetts. The two named erected a frame house, cutting the timber from their own lots, and making the shingles by hand work; the house was supplied with a brick chimney, the brick costing $25 a thousand. This was the first frame house having a brick chimney in the town. The next season Mr. Chamberlain brought his wife here and became the third or fourth settler, there being only two cabins in the village at that time. The house he built stood about where the soldiers' monument now stands. In this house he raised a family of eight girls and three boys. His oldest child was the first white child born in town who lived to grow up, she being 93 at death. The following are the names of the children, among whom were prominent town citizens, and all but two were teachers at some time during their careers: Sarah J., Calvin, Julian, Abigail, Luther, Lucy, Hannah F., Harriet, Cleora, Eager and Henrietta. Mr. Chamberlain was a member of the committee to draw up the constitution of Maine, and a representative in 1832.

man drove the first team into town ever here. This he took with him from Massachusetts, and had to cut his way in from Bangor.

Among others who deserve special mention here was Eliphalet Washburn, who came here in the same year that Mr. Chamberlain did, (1805). He began at once to build for himself a home. He cut his timber on the shore of Sebec lake, floated it down to the mouth of the lake, where a saw mill was being built, helped complete the same, got his timber sawed in return for his labor, hired Mr. Dow of East Dover to haul the lumber to his lot, and paid him in corn. He then went to Bangor on foot for his nails, there paying a shilling a pound. He took them home on his back. Thus he collected his material, and erected his house on the farm where Mr. Farris now lives, near O. C. Dunham's, on the road to Sebec station. Reports say that this was the first frame house built within the limits of this town. Though there is no doubt about Mr. Chamberlain's being the first framed house with a brick chimney, the question as to which was completed first is a matter of more or less doubt.

Among other early settlers were Joel Pratt, Nathaniel Chamberlain, William Thayer, Nathan Carpenter, Nathan Buck, William Buck, Moses Buck, Daniel Buck, Gilman Greeley, John Bradbury, John Chandler, Jas. Carl and Adoniram Blake.

INDUSTRIAL ACCOUNT.

The first water privilege on the river in Dover is that now occupied by Mayo's mill. This was first utilized by the Spaulding brothers, John, Seth and Eleazer, who were the first to construct a dam at this point. They built a saw mill, and soon after added a grist mill. These were absolute necessities to the settlers, to obtain lumber for their buildings and flour or meal for their food. The builders soon after sold to Hutchins, Hathaway & Whiting. After this the mills passed through the hands of Mr. Bullen of Hebron to Col. Samuel Greeley, then to his sons, Samuel, Jr., Daniel and Gilman. In 1820 Daniel Greeley took down the old mill and erected a large saw and grist mill. This was carried away by a freshet in 1854. In the meantime other mills had been erected—a tannery, hoe factory, cloth dressing factories, and others, most of which are not standing now. Mayo's, Doore's, and R. D. Gilman's are now the only mills drawing power from this dam. We find next on the bank of the river Augustus Gilman's mill, which takes its power from the brook. This power was first used by Samuel Chamberlain for an oil factory. He sold the property to Ivery Jordan, who built over the factory into a small grist mill. The present owner purchased the plant of his heirs, and put up the large grist mill now occupying the spot.

The next privilege is that utilized by Brown's mills. A. Moore was the first to use this privilege, building a mill on the opposite side of the river. Col. Carpenter and Eben Greeley later enlarged this mill, but it has since been taken down. We find record of other mills that have been operated on this privilege, but Chas. Vaughan was the first to build on the present site of Brown's mill. Mr. Vaughan blasted out the canal, erected a grist mill and a cleanser for wheat about 1826. Sewall Cochran opened and ran the mill, and later bought it of Mr. Vaughan. The following year Mr. Vaughan built a woolen mill near the same site, but both mills were burned in 1840. They were rebuilt in 1867, when S. P. Brown put up a large brick mill, which soon passed from his hands into the possession of S. O. Brown & Co., the present owners. S. O. Brown is agent for these mills.

The next privilege in use on the river is at East Dover, where Eli Towne erected the first mill ever erected in the town. It was a crude grist mill, put up some time about 1816-17, but was later taken down to give place to a new structure that should be of more service. Messrs. Stone, Bartlett, Wyman and Dow in 1835 built the new mill. The entire stock was bought in by Mr. Wyman later and sold to a Mr. Smith, who sold to Joseph Brown. This was taken out in 1857, rebuilt and purchased by Oren Brown, and later fell into the hands of Whittier & Egory, who sold to the Electric Light Co. for a power station. There were at various times other mills built here, but the above named, and the grist mill owned by Mayhew, are the only survivors.

Among other business enterprises not occupying water privileges, and of more recent date, are W. Cushing & Co., the manufacturers of the Perfection dyes, which are now used all over the country; Hughes & Sons, the well known manufacturers of pianos and organs; Runnals Bros., machinists; H. J. Dexter, Wood Working Co.; Ranger & Ayer Manufacturing Co., manufacturers of fine lumber for carriages, sheathing, picture backing, etc.

The Foxeroft spool factory of John McGregor is one of the leading industries in these towns. The plant is under the management of L. T. Bryant, and is doing a very successful business. The entire output of the mill is used by the celebrated Clark O. N. T. Thread Co. of Newark, N. J. The average number employed here is about 60 hands, and its daily output in round numbers is 1500 gross. Mr. McGregor also operates another plant situated in Aroostook county.

MILITARY MATTERS.

The earliest military step that we find recorded in Dover was the organization of the Military Company about 1812. This company, however, saw no active service in the war in progress at that time. Some of the members of this company went to the "Aroostook War" but here, too, as it proved, there was no active service for any of the troops, the difficulty being amicably settled by treaty rather than by force of arms. The Dover Military Company was last called to muster in 1843. It had over one hundred men, all citizens of this town. A Cavalry Company which had its headquarters here about this time was made up of all in this section who cared to join the organization.

The C. S. Douty Post, No. 23, G. A. R., was organized on April 7, 1880, with 32 members. The officiating members the first year were as follows: V. A. Gray, Commander; W. W. Miller, Senior Vice Com.; J. K. Robbins, Junior Vice Com.; S. C. Whitcomb, Chaplain; W. Cushing, Officer of the Day; T. P. Elliott, Adjutant; and A. L. Ober, Quartermaster.

The present officers are: W. W. Miller, Commander; N. C. Stowe, Senior Vice Com.; Amasa Gilman, Junior Vice Com.; H. E. Stowe, Adjutant; A. M. Warren, Quartermaster; F. G. Pratt, Officer of the Day; E. T. Douglass, Chaplain. The time of meeting is the first and third Wednesdays of each month.

CHURCH HISTORY.

In the very early days of the town's history there were very few people and no religious services. After a number of families had settled at East Dover, Col. Foxcroft visited the settlement and, though not a religious man himself, advised them to hold religious services. Immediately arrangements were made for a meeting the following Sunday in Mr. Eli Towne's barn. There were, however, some difficulties to overcome. The question arose as to who would make the prayer. The singers had assembled with hymn-books, the old schoolmaster with a sermon book in his pocket, William Mitchell with a bible, but no one had come prepared to pray; nor could any one be found to do so until Mrs. William Mitchell volunteered. Soon after this, Rev. John Sawyer came often to preach to those in the settlement. Later churches began to be organized and church edifices built. Now we have a Mission Society, Christian Science, Adventist, Catholic, Free Baptist, Baptist,

VINDTON HOMINO

Congregational, Universalist and Methodist societies, all being supplied with regular preaching and all but the first two mentioned with fine church buildings. We give a brief historical account of those societies organized in the early years. We should state at this point that Rev. Nathaniel Robinson was the first settled minister in town. He was stationed at East Dover.

CONGREGATIONAL.

This was one of the first church societies organized in these towns. It had nineteen charter members when organized in 1822, and T. Williams was made its first pastor. The first church building was put up in 1833 on Lincoln street, Foxcroft side, near where R. D. Gilman now lives. This, however, was burned the year after being dedicated, 1834. This was a great blow to the society, but they put up another that same year on North street, near where O. P. Martin formerly lived. This building burned to the ground in 1850. Neither of these had any insurance. In 1851 the third house was put up, which is still standing on Main street, Foxcroft. The original cost was $3,300. In 1871 it was extensively repaired at a cost of $4,000 and the clock placed in its tower by Deacon Mayo whose heirs still run Mayo's Mills. In 1875, Deacon Mayo built the chapel on the same lot as the church at a cost of $4,000, and deeded it to the society without any cost to them. The parsonage was purchased in 1882 at a cost of $2,100, and the next year $500 was laid out in repairs on the same. The Congregational pastors have been: Thomas Williams, 1823-35; Elias Wells, 1837-42; W. Parker, 1842-56; Edward S. Palmer, 1857-58; Calvin Chapman, 1859-63; W. E. Darling, 1862-65; B. C. Chase, 1866; J. H. Gurney, 1869-75; H. A. Loving, 1875-80; D. A. Morehouse, 1881-90; W. P. Cross, 1890-1; A. L. Chase, 1891-96; Norman McKinnon, 1896-1900; and V. M. Hardy, 1900, the present pastor. Thirty-two men from this society enlisted in the Civil War.

UNIVERSALIST SOCIETY.

The Universalist Society in this town was called "the Universalist Society of Dover, Foxcroft and Sangerville," and the constitution adopted was signed by the following persons, dated April 21, 1825: William Frost, John Spaulding, Seth Spaulding, Artemus Spaulding, Allen Dwelly, Bela Hammond, Thomas Rose, Asa Sprague, Henry Coy, William Campbell, Isaac Bearce, David Bryant, Moses Buck, William Thaver, Pelham Bryant, Nathaniel Chamberlain, Daniel Brown, Jonathan S. Plummer, M. H. Plummer, Adoniram Blake, Benjamin Spaulding, James Call, Moses Sawyer, Zarah Hammond, Daniel Buck, Owen Record, Isaac A. Thayer. A meeting was held April 4, 1825, at which Nathaniel Chamberlain was chosen moderator, Isaac Allen, clerk. A committee to enact by-laws was chosen as follows: Nathaniel Chamberlain, Henry Coy, Asa Sprague; collector, John Spaulding; committee to frame constitution, Nathaniel Chamberlain, William Campbell, William Frost; committee admitting members, Thomas Rose, Owen Records, Benjamin Spaulding. It was voted at this meeting to meet every Sabbath whether there was preaching or not. In 1826, Elder William Frost was asked to preach one-half the time for a year. In 1827 it was voted to ask Elder Frost to preach such part of the year as the funds would permit. In 1826 it was voted to choose as assistant clerks William Campbell for Sangerville and Nathaniel Chamberlain from Foxcroft. This would make it appear that meetings may have been held in the different towns alternately, there being then no church of this society in Dover. No mention is made at this early date of any other preacher. In 1829 a call was issued for the annual meeting to be held in Potter's store in Dover. Another meeting was called to meet in J. S. Philbrick's hall in Dover.

Then another meeting was called at Patten's store at which meeting A. S. Patten was chosen clerk. He was a fine penman and the change in the records was distinctly noticeable, as was the case in later years when E. B. Averill became clerk.

The last early record ceases November, 1830, either because the book was filled and another taken which is now lost, or the society became dormant. The next record is of a petition issued May 9, 1837 to Chas. P. Chandler Esq., for a warrant to call a meeting to organize a society to be called the Dover & Foxcroft Universalist Society with the following names signed: A. S. Patten, Nathaniel Young, Benjamin Cofren, Chas. Walker, Samuel Eames, Jacob Sprague, C. M. Cobb, Isaac Blethen, Samuel Palmer, J. R. Leighton, Adna Parsons, E. Leonard Stoddard, Samuel Hale, William A. B. Cobb, Newhall Allen, Jr., Joseph Moulton, T. H. Boynton, Judah Hackett, Hattie Proctor, Isaac Plummer, Ira Dean, Daniel Brown.

At this time the society had a meeting house though we and the second process of the second find no record of the building of one. An old Bible in the town library records that one was dedicated in 1833. It is said that the church was used for some time as a court house. For some years the society was very prosperous but owing to deaths of valuable members and the removals to the West it gradually languished, and finally services ceased in the year 1861 with the pastorate of Rev. Hiram P. Osgood. Efforts were then made by Spiritualists and also by Unitarians to hold meetings and to renovate the church, badly in need of repairs, but finally the house was taken away and the land reverted to the heirs of the man who gave it to the society while it should be used for a church lot. In Feb. and Mar. 1894 the present parish was organized with about twenty-five or thirty members. A ladies' circle had been active for four or five years previously. In August 1894 the first minister, Rev. F. E. Wheeler, began his labors for this parish in Town Hall, Foxcroft. Nov. 24, 1895, Rev. Manley B. Townsend, became pastor. It was during his pastorate that a new church was built, several rods west of the church on the same street, and a church organization was formed with about sixty members. The third pastor, Rev. H. L. Canfield, came to the parish in December 1898, six months after the resignation of Mr. Townsend. He remained until August 1902. In May 1903 the present pastor, Rev. A. Gertrude Earle, accepted a call. The church and lot are valued at about $6,000 and are now free from debt. It is conveniently located and the society is very prosperous. This church like all others has lost by death many devoted friends. Lawyer A. M. Robinson and wife, Judge Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Goff and others, were among the faithful whose loss was most discouraging to the society. Judge Brown was a teacher in the Sunday School from the very beginning and his name as clerk is found many times in the old records. William Frost was the first minister of this society so far as we can learn. From 1833 the following have been pastors down to the end of the first organization: Rev. Jacob Fulmer, Rev. Gibson Smith, Rev. Joe Miller, Benjamin Tasker, Amos A. Richards, M. Dennis, E. B. Averill, F. A. Hodgden, W. A. P. Dillingham, W. W. Wilson, H. P. Osgood.

METHODISTS.

A society of the Methodist Episcopal denomination in Dover was organized under J. Harrington in 1829, and John Merrick built the first church, also giving a lot for a parsonage. This church was situated at what is now called Bear Hill. Mr. Harrington was followed by Rev. William Withee, and Rev. D. M. White. About 1845 the society was organized here in Dover and Foxcroft village. They worshipped with the Free Baptists, in the court house for a while and later bought a half interest in the Free Baptist's newly erected church. In 1858 they sold their interest and in 1860 dedicated the brick church on Main street. This house has been since twice remodeled and a vestry added. It is now valued at $8,000. The parsonage on Pleasant street is valued at $3,000. The society now has a membership of 166. Their pastors, with the dates of their arrival, have been: Luther P. French, 1859; A. Church, 1861; A. C.

Godfrey, 1863; Cyrus Stone, 1864; W. W. Marsh, 1866; B. A. Chase, 1869; G. R. Palmer, 1870; S. C. Elliott, 1872; W. H. Williams, 1873; J. A. L. Rich, 1876; C. A. Palmer, 1879; V. P. Wardwell, 1882; G. G. Winslow, 1883; J. W. Day, 1886; T. H. Murphy, (deceased); W. H. McAllister, 1887; H. P. Winter, 1888; J. W. Day, 1889; M. B. Pratt, 1892; C. C. Whidden, 1894; J. H. Irvine, 1898; H. W. Norton, 1902, the present pastor.

BAPTIST.

Previous to 1841 this society held its meetings in a school-house at what is known as the Four Corners in Foxcroft. In 1840 the Baptists held a meeting here and organized the Dover and Foxcroft Baptist society of today. In 1841 its first church was completed. In 1888 this was moved to form a part of the present vestry, and a new church built and furnished with modern fixtures at a total expense of about $5,500. It now has a membership of about 175.

The pastors who have served are as follows: Rev. O. B. Walker, 1843; S. Adlan, 1846; J. M. Follett, 1849; C. M. Herring, 1859; A. D. F. Palmer, 1864; J. M. Follett, 1869; E. A. VanKleek, 1874; S. P. Pendleton, 1877; Geo. E. Tuffs, 1879; N. Lord, 1881; C. C. Tilley, 1884; William J. Clouse, 1886; T. M. Butler, 1888; H. R. Mitchell, 1891; H. B. Tilden, 1896; F. H. Pratt, 1901, to the present time. This society owns a fine parsonage next door to the church on Main street.

FREE BAPTIST.

That there were people of this faith in town and holding services previous to 1845 is evident, but only the record of a - vote to settle the account for S. S. supplies in full in 1835, can be found previous to the above years. On Saturday, Nov. 15, 1845, Elder Leonard Hathaway together with Flavel Bartlett, William Mayhew, John Douglass and wife, and William F. Gallison and wife assembled at the home of Andrew Blethen on North street, in Foxeroft, and organized the Free Baptist society. Until 1850 this society and the Methodists held union services in the court house. On the above date this society dedicated a church on Main street. In 1849 we find a vote to raise $400 to build a church, but the records show no account of more money being raised. Some time in 1850 the Methodists joined them, paying one-half the cost of the church. arrangement continued until 1858 when the Free Baptists bought out the Methodists for $600. Since this time the church has been three times repaired and remodeled at a total cost of over $5,500. Now they own a modern edifice lighted by electricity, and fitted out with a well furnished kitchen, vestry and large auditorium. The society is now free from debt and has about 125 members. The pastors are as follows: Moses Ames, 1851-3; W. H. Littlefield, 1859-62; Moses Ames, one year; Geo. J. Abbott, 1863-6; G. S. Bryant, (supply); Amos Redlon, 1866-7; M. H. Tarbox, 1869-72; Horace Graves, 1873-5; S. C. Whitcomb, 1875-81; E. C. Cook, 1881-3; B. D. Newell, 1884-6; A. G. Hill, 1886-91; W. L. Nickerson, 1892-6; H. H. Hayes, 1897, the present pastor.

ADVENT.

The Advent society was first organized here in 1886 and a church building was soon after begun. It was completed and dedicated in 1887, with Rev. O. S. French as first pastor. Previous to this meetings were held in the old schoolhouse which once stood on School street but has since been moved and converted into a dwelling house. Mr. French, its first pastor, remained here until 1892, when he left a devoted society worshipping in a new $2,500 chapel on High street. Since this time the following pastors have served: Joshua Denton, Jas. A. Nichols, W. E. Dow, A. H. Kearney, J. T. Coolbroth, O. S. French, the present pastor.

CATHOLIC CHURCH.

Many years ago this society had no regular priest but was often visited by missionaries of the faith. About thirty years ago it was made a part of the society at Waterville and began to have regular services, Rev. Father Halde being the priest at Waterville. Later this was made a part of the Old Town society and Father Trudel officiated. Later still it was connected with Dexter, and Rev. Father Bradley then presided here until 1896, when he was followed by Rev. Father John Houlihan. Up to this time services were held in the town hall, but Father Houlihan induced the society to build a church which was dedicated in 1898. This stands on High street. The parish was first organized as a church in 1898 and the number of its members has increased until now there is a large and prosperous society.

SCHOOL ITEMS.

We find that the first school in the town of Dover was kept at Eli Towne's house at East Dover. It is said and verified that one of those who taught here was a man who brought a jug of rum with him each morning and kept it behind a door in the hall, during the day occasionally slipping into the hall to test its quality.

The first schoolhouse built in the town was put up by Eli Towne opposite where Mr. Henry Towne now lives. This was a square room with a square roof. For seats planks were placed along the walls. No desks were in the house. Books were few, necessitating that many use the same copy. The room was not finished inside. Spruce studs were used with the bark on them, only being scored down on one side with an axe so boards could be nailed to them. This was later moved up nearer Dover village, and finally burned one night after a meeting had been held in it. Then the town was divided into districts (three in all) and other schoolhouses erected. This was about 1825. Probably about this time the first schoolhouse was built in Dover village, and stood where the Blethen house now stands, as the first one put up in the village stood Just what became of this building, we are unable to state, but it is supposed to have been moved onto the lot where Col. Peaks' tenement now stands. Whether this be so or not, there was a schoolhouse on this lot at an early date which was later moved onto Pearl street and now forms a part of the A.

District Land of the

G. Warren house. The next schoolhouse is supposed to have been the one which was located in the Cove, and now forms a part of F. O. Lanpher's house. The date of building this house is variously stated from 1835 to 1845. Sometime about 1850 Merrick Hall was erected, with the lower floor devoted to schools and the upper for a town house, and later an Odd Fellows' hall. The Cove schoolhouse and the Merrick Hall schoolrooms supplied the need until 1882 when the present building was put up on High street and Merrick Hall converted into a dwelling house now owned by Mr. Peaks. The present building cost $11,000, and in 1897 $2,500 was laid out in remodeling it. This building at first accommodated all grades. One year ago it was voted to pay to Foxcroft Academy the amount of money used for the High school and allow the Dover students to attend there, thus giving more room to the lower grades. In 1902 it was agreed to unite with Foxcroft and Guilford and employ a superintendent to devote his whole time to the work.

FOXCROFT SCHOOLS.

The first school in Foxcroft was kept by Miss Betsey Mitchell, the daughter of William Mitchell of Dover, in a barn which stood on what is now Henry Parsons' farm. Miss Giddings from Brunswick also taught in this barn. The first school building in town was built early in the town's history, but we are unable to give the exact date, probably about 1815. It was a square building with square roof; the floor was raised at the back, making it very inconvenient if a pencil, apple, or other round article were dropped, as it would roll to the very front of the room and was usually picked up by the teacher. This building, crude as it was, though up-to-date for the time, often accommodated 75 pupils, and at one time there were 21 from three families. The building was twice moved, and when taken down stood a little above Mr. Henry Parsons' farm. At this time the town was divided into districts and several houses built in town. The house built in the village at this time was the first within its present limits and stood where Mr. Carleton now lives on North street. This building soon became inadequate to the need of the town and a larger one was built on the site where Mr. Henry Vaughan now lives. This building was used until the present house was erected in 1873, when it was moved onto Summer street and now forms a part of the double tenement house just below the blacksmith shop. The present building cost $6,000 and was remodeled in 1892. Here the grammar, intermediate and primary schools are kept.

FOXCROFT ACADEMY.

Foxcroft Academy plays a very good part in the educational advantages offered by these two towns. The building is beautifully located near Foxcroft Square and is surrounded by many beautiful elms and maples, adding attraction to the spot.

It was first founded in 1823 and a building erected which stood until 1860. In 1860 a very appropriate two-story building was erected on the site of the old one, that house having been moved away. In 1891 it was remodeled and fixed up and now is a pleasant, attractive and convenient school building.

The town of Foxcroft pays annually to this institution a sum equivalent to the cost of supporting a free high school, thus making it a free high school to the students in town. It has three courses of study and a staff of four or more assistants beside the principal, the number of assistants varying with the attendance.

The management of the academy is in the hands of a board of trustees with E. A. Thompson as president, J. B. Mayo, vice-president, Willis E. Parsons as secretary. It is supported by the town of Foxcroft, tuition of non-resident students, graded appropriation from the state, and donations from friends and alumni of the institution.

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN.

These towns have had many men in business and the professions who have shown great interest in the prosperity and development of the community. These men have taken the initiative in introducing many improvements and, as in all country towns, have been honored and respected as the benefactors of their fellow-citizens.

MERCHANTS.

Some of the merchants of Dover have been Thomas Davee, A. S. Patten, G. W. Sawyer, B. C. Lowell, D. Bryant, J. L. Philbrick, C. E. Kimball, C. H. B. Woodbury, these located near the Dover bridge; and A. L. Ober, E. Coburn, E. D. Wades and J. W. Loud, located near the Foxcroft bridge, are among those who have been in trade in the village. There were in Foxcroft outside the village, John Bradbury, William and Nathaniel Bradbury, S. S. Herring and Caleb Prentiss, among the early merchants.

LAWYERS.

Among the members of the bar who have located in Dover are C. P. Chandler, J. B. Everett, H. O. Morrison, A. M. Robinson, J. S. Wiley, and S. R. Hall. Those in Foxcroft have been J. S. Holmes, J. S. Wiley, Ephraim Flint, D. L. Savage, and A. G. Labroke.

Those now located here are, in Dover: H. J. Cross, J. B. Peaks, E. C. Smith, C. W. Brown, Frank E. Guerney and F. C. Peaks; in Foxcroft: W. E. Parsons, C. W. Hayes and A. R. Peaks.

PHYSICIANS.

Of the physicians who have ministered to the ills of this people may be mentioned the following: Dr. Jacobs, Hiram Canon, J. Smith, Benj. Johnson, E. A. Thompson, the donor of the free library, and S. W. Elliott, in Dover; in Foxcroft: Jeremiah Leach, W. Brown, Aaron Tucker, J. Hobbs, Dr. Jordan, C. Hamlin, and J. Lawton. These have all passed away or gone elsewhere.

The present physicians are: C. C. Hall, J. B. Cochran, H. A. Holt and A. H. Stanhope; dentist, C. E. Holt, and veter-

FACTS OF INTEREST.

THOMPSON FREE LIBRARY.

The Thompson Free Library, situated on Main street, Dover, was completed in 1898. It was built by Dr. E. A. Thompson, in memory of his deceased wife, Lucia Thompson. Mr. Thompson, at the annual town meeting in 1897, offered to build a library to cost not less than $5,000, to give at least $400 per year during his life for its support, and to leave $10,000 endowment at his death, if the town would furnish the lot. The town did so and the building was dedicated September 9, 1898, having cost over $8,000. The management of the library is in the hands of an executive committee of three members, one chosen by the town, one by the library association, and one, which must be a lady, by these two.

The value of this library to the towns is inestimable, both socially and educationally, offering, as it does, to every citizen the privilege of free access to its well assorted stacks of books and selected publications, the latter including both magazines, story-papers and newspapers. This remarkable and practical gift of Dr. Thompson is well appreciated by the people of Dover, and his name, linked with that of his late wife, will ever be loved and respected because of this gift and his other numerous benevolences, and the interest he has ever taken in the welfare of this town.

THE RESERVE OF TAXABLE

THE RESERVE OF THE PARTY OF THE

BRIDGES.

At first the settlers at East Dover forded the river on foot or by team, sometimes assisted by dugouts. However crude these methods may seem to us, they were the only means then possible. The pioneers crossed this way for some years. The first bridge to span the river in these towns was a flat, open bridge built by Paul Lambert near where the present one is at East Dover. It was too low and was soon taken out by the ice. As a Sturtevant replaced this with a two-span bridge which was also too low and went the way of its predecessor. This was brought back to its old resting place and remained until the present iron bridge was put in, in 1884.

The next record we have of bridge building was about 1820, when Mr. Nathan Chamberlain built a bridge where the Foxcroft bridge is. This probably was the one which went out in 1854. The present bridge was then put in. The Brown brothers, (Anson and Oren) of Sebec put in the first bridge across the river in Dover (1830-5, it is thought). This went out in 1857 and the present one was erected to take its place.

SOUTH DOVER GRANGE.

South Dover Grange, No. 261, was organized in December, 1883, with C. S. Ireland, master, and L. A. Ayer, overseer. Their regular weekly meetings are held on Saturday evening at the Grange hall at South Dover. The number of charter members was 30, now there are 134 members. They have constructed their hall and stable. The hall is furnished with dining room and kitchen, all at a total cost of about $2,000.

Census of Dover and Forcroft

The population of the towns of Dover and Foxcroft has been arranged herewith in families where that arrangement has been possible. In these families, in addition to the resident living members, the names of the non-resident members are included. It should be borne in mind that this plan does not include the names of all former residents of the towns of Dover and Foxcroft, as the names of the non-residents appear only when one or both the parents are still living in town. At the end of the census will be found the names of the non-residents with present addresses when such addresses have been given to us. The non-residents are indicated by the (*).

In the village the river has been considered the dividing line instead of the real town line but in the country districts the town line has been used.

Following the names of the population is the occupation. To designate the occupations we have used the more common abbreviations and contractions. Some of these follow: Farmer—far; carpenter—car; railroad service—R R ser; student, a member of an advanced institution of learning—stu; pupil, a member of a lower grade of schools—pl; housework—hw; laborer—lab; physician and surgeon—phy & sur; clergyman—clerg; merchant—mer; teacher—tr; blacksmith—blk; clerk—cl; book-keeper—bk kpr; operators in Brown's Mill—B's M; in Mayo's Mill—M's M; in the Spool mill—S M.

This census was taken during the summer of 1904 by R. H. Remick, New Sharon, Me., and O. M. Bean.

THE FASHION_

Baagor's Leading Outfitting Store for Women and Children

Our Great Cloak Room

Everybody expects to find the best selection, the latest Novelties and the Choicest Suits, Jackets, Coats, Skirts and Waists in this great department, and having such a large share of this trade we can show you a larger variety and quote lower prices than any other store.

We have won the acknowledged distinction of having the Cloak Department of the town. Every day it is demonstrated that our supremacy is stronger than ever. There is an air of refinement—of elegance and superiority of our garments over others. There is nothing of that common "sameness" or that look of "ordinary" so prevalent in ready-made goods.
